This brief, erudite introduction to the Classics grounds itself in the temple at Bassae in Greece, giving its description and the story of its excavation and fitting both into a broad description of the many fields - Art History, Philosophy, Literature, Archaeology, Mythology and many more - which Classics have influenced or played a part in.

Classics: A Very Short Introduction by Mary Beard

This introduction to the Classics begins with a visit to the British Museum to view the frieze which once decorated the Apollo Temple at Bassae. Through these sculptures, John Henderson and Mary Beard prompt us to consider the significance of Classics as a means of discovery and enquiry, its value in terms of literature, philosophy, and culture, and its importance as a source of imagery.
